Shriner Invasion Started 2,700 Arrive Here Today

The deck of S.S. Princess Marguerite blossomed into a sea of red Fezzes at noon today as 1,500 Shriners arrived from Pacific Northwest points.

Embarking from Seattle were Nobles from Nile Temple, Seattle; Al Kadar Temple, Portland; Afifi Temple, Tacoma, and El Katif Temple, Spokane.

Another 1,200 Shriners were due to arrive on S.S. Princess Patricia from Vancouver at 3:45 p.m., representing Temples and Shrine clubs in Vancouver, the interior of B.C., and the prairie provinces.

By the time the Seattle boat had made fast, the Shriners had completed their conquest of the city.

Spontaneous and informal parades; good-humored horseplay; lilting band music, left no doubt that the Shriners are in town.

HOTELS SOLID

Hub of Shrine activity was the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, where registration officials labored from 10 a.m. throughout the afternoon.

All arriving Nobles and their wives reported first to the hotel, where they registered and were assigned accommodation. All hotels and auto courts are booked solid with Shriners, and hundreds are being given accommodation in private homes.

The "housing" desk was under constant pressure as out-of-towners asked directions to get to their lodgings, some of them as much as 12 miles from the city.

The Nile band of 60 musicians from Seattle was scheduled to make an appearance in The Times newsroom this afternoon, after parading through the streets in their uniforms.

PEOPLE GASP

Spectators gasped when the boat docked at noon, as a mass of color flowed off the gangplank and spread through the streets.

First official function of the 50th Anniversary ceremonials of Gizeh Temple will be the pageant and dance at Memorial Arena at 7:30 p.m., which is open to the public. Very few tickets were left this afternoon.

5 Would-Be Hitlers Clapped in Prison

DORTMUND, Germany (UPI)—The West German government today clapped five would-be Hitlers in jail for terms ranging from six to 14 months on charges of attempting to re-ive Nazism.

The five were accused of forming a secret Fascist society with headquarters in Hagen and branch offices scattered in towns throughout the politically volatile Ruhr.

Two others were acquitted.

Italian Elections Could Harm Future Of NATO, Army

ROME (UP)—Italian Communists warned today that if left wing parties win power in Sunday's general election they will repudiate the Atlantic pact and the proposed European army plan.

The Communists accused the government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi of planning to win the nation-wide parliamentary election by "fraud."

Leaders of all Italian parties, from the Communists on the left to the monarchists and neo-Fascist Italian social movement (MSI) on the right, made major speeches as the campaign entered its last 36 hours.

Under Italian law all campaigning for the new 590-seat chamber of deputies must end at midnight Friday.

Electrical Storm Hits Toronto and District

TORONTO (BUP)—A strong electrical storm struck Toronto early today, knocking out power in many parts of the district and striking at least two homes with lightning.

In the Sarnia district, winds up to 50 miles per hour uprooted trees and knocked down power lines in a half-dozen places.

10,000 Cheer Canucks At Buckingham Palace

Dominion's Korea Veterans Display Snap, Precision in Relieving Guards

LONDON (UP)—A crowd of 10,000, many of them Canadians, gathered around Buckingham Palace today and cheered as the Canadian Coronation contingent took over the Palace Guard with the snap, precision, and well-drilled ease that would have done credit to the House of Commons.

They wore their No. 1 blue uniforms with cherry berets and they came into the forecourt of the palace with a band playing "Maple Leaf Forever." Some 150 Canadian school children here for the Coronation were almost speechless with excitement.

All the Canadians in the honor guard are veterans of Korea.

LONDON (CP)—The Queen said goodbye at Buckingham Palace today to more than 200 dignitaries from 60 foreign lands who came to London to see her crowned.

For officialdom it marked the close of the varied, glittering ceremonies that have surrounded the Coronation of Elizabeth II. Official visits by the foreign representatives end Saturday.

But for the people a happy post-Coronation mood continues to prevail and probably will go on for days. Thousands milled about the palace, shouting for the Queen and laughing at the jumping-jack antics of young Prince Charles as he watched a guards parade from a window. Strollers along the procession route jammed traffic.

At the palace farewell ceremony the Queen, hatless and in a dress of lemon silk, moved slowly down the line of envoys assembled in the state apartments. She spoke to each in turn, including the leader of the senior Commonwealth country, Canada.

Behind her walked her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Optimism Mounts For End of War

HEAVY VOTE INDICATED BY ADVANCE TURNOUT

Turnout at Greater Victoria's advance poll at the YMCA Thursday indicates "fairly heavy voting" on Tuesday, the regular voting day, Returning Officer Alan Macfarlane said today.

Total of 165 persons voted on the first day, he said.

The advance poll, which is for persons who will be out of B.C. Tuesday, will be open today and Saturday from 1 to 9 p.m.

Last June, 426 persons took advantage of advance poll facilities.

Counter Libel Suit Launched by Kemp

Latest Development in B.C. Election Legal Actions; A-G May Take Action

VANCOUVER (CP)—The launching of two legal actions involving alleged libel has been announced in British Columbia's bitter provincial election campaign.

And Premier Bennett told an election meeting Thursday night he believes there will be criminal libel suits "conducted by the attorney-general himself" in connection with statements made by the independent candidate involved in the other two actions.

The independent candidate is Dr. W. N. Kemp, running in Vancouver-Point Grey riding in the June 9 election. He is being sued by John Perdue, president of the B.C. Social Credit League, and, in turn, has announced he will sue Mr. Perdue.

The hectic series of charges and counter-charges began a week ago when Mr. Kemp said at an election meeting that Mr. Perdue "has been convicted on more than one occasion of obtaining money under false pretenses and similar crimes in Vancouver."

Mr. Perdue has obtained a writ in the B.C. Supreme Court seeking unostentatious damages from Dr. Kemp for alleged slander and libel. The doctor followed up at a meeting Thursday night by announcing he is suing Mr. Perdue for "defamation of character and libel." Mr. Kemp said he, too, has obtained a writ.

The Social Credit premier's report that the attorney-general may step into the case was made during a speech at Rutland in the province's interior.

Dr. Kemp said he was basing his suit on remarks made by the Social Credit League president, himself, an election candidate, when he spoke in reply to the criminal-record allegations.

Mr. Perdue asserted that it appeared that the Liberal party was in the background of what he said was a smear campaign by the independent candidate and said Dr. Kemp launched his attack after the government rejected his bid for a $35-a-day job.

Following Mr. Perdue's comment that the criminal-record charge appeared part of the Liberal campaign, the B.C. Liberal Association released a statement which said:

"Such a deplorable attempt to clear himself of his own trouble by trying to place the blame on

Quebec Girl Shot Gambler Alleged Police

GAINSMORE, Que. (BUP)—A 12-year-old girl was under arrest today after the killing of a "tin-horn" gambler who sat down to play cards with a 410-gauge shotgun at his side.

Quebec provincial police said the girl was being detained for questioning and that no charge had been laid "although we know she shot him with his own gun."

The victim was Joseph Caya, 44, who reportedly parked the gun beside him when he entered a card game with several friends at a home in this Abitibi district village 600 miles from Montreal.

Sgt. Romeo Courtemanche said an argument developed during the game and Caya waved the gun in the air, threatening to "kill a few of you." He said everyone left the house except the girl. A short time later a shot was heard and Caya was found dead from pellets from his own gun.

London Stock Exchange Says Truce Pact Signed

Optimism that an armistice is near in Korea was building up rapidly today.

A bulletin on the London Stock Exchange, denied in New York, said the peace agreement had already been signed.

New York industrials were down an average of 20 cents, dropping below Thursday's low.

From other world capitals came these developments:

TOKYO (AP)—A leading United States authority said today an agreement to exchange Korean prisoners of war is likely to be signed at Panmunjom Saturday but an armistice agreement could not be signed before next week.

"The UN and the Communists are nearer agreement on that issue than ever before," said the official, who asked that his name be withheld. "This looks like the real thing."

SEOUL, Korea (Reuters)—President Syngman Rhee, still protesting against draft terms of a Korean truce, said tonight that South Korea would accept them nonetheless because of its friendship for the United States.

OTTAWA (BUP)—An unusual expression of optimism on progress at the Korean truce talks was voiced today by the prime minister's office and the Department of External Affairs.

Acting Prime Minister Brooke Claxton said reports to the government were "the most encouraging" this country had received since the drawn-out talks began more than a year ago.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United Nations made plans today for a "peace" session of its General Assembly two to three weeks after signing of a Korean truce agreement at Panmunjom.

When and if a truce agreement is reached, official notification will be sent to the UN security council, of which U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. is president this month.

LONDON (Reuters)—British Commonwealth prime ministers meeting here have sent a message to Washington underlining, it is believed, their optimism that a Korean truce now is in sight.

The document expressed the prime ministers' views of the Communist reaction Thursday to the United Nations latest truce proposals.

High sources disclosed the nine prime ministers are unanimous in their optimism over the move.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

SEOUL (AP)—The end of the Korean fighting appeared close today. A fateful truce meeting Saturday morning in Panmunjom could almost write an end to three years of war and death.

The Communists were reported to have submitted terms so close to those of the United Nations command that an armistice might be signed by June 25, third anniversary of this war that has already taken an awesome toll.

A high U.S. official in Tokyo said an agreement to exchange prisoners likely will be signed Saturday. However, a truce could not be signed before next week, he added.

Two Dead, Hundreds Evacuated As Manitoba Takes Worst Blow

EDMONTON (CP)—Rivers and streams across a thousand miles of the Prairies are running high or bursting their banks today with the runoff of a three-day storm that loosened up to five inches of rain in some areas and has forced evacuation of hundreds of residents. At least two persons are dead.

Hundreds of thousands of acres of rich prairie farmland have turned soggy mush, delaying seeding and necessitating re-seeding in many areas.

Officials expect a reduction in the seeded wheat acreage as farmers convert to coarse grains.

Manitoba appears to have been hit the hardest. It was still raining in some parts of the province Thursday night, although the weather office here said the "worst is over."

Several families living on the banks of the Old Man river at Lethbridge were forced to move to higher ground Thursday.

when the river jumped 4½ feet. Houses on an island in the river were almost flooded and Indian families moved out.

A further rise in the river level is expected as run-off from the foothills reaches the stream.

Homes in Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge reported flooded basements. Numerous railway washouts were reported.

On the heels of a wet spring, the storm didn't aid the farmers. In northern Manitoba, where farmers had 10 to 30 per cent of their wheat in the ground, the storm was reported to have washed out everything.

Manitoba's Riding Mountain National Park area, 150 miles northwest of Winnipeg, was reported in a serious situation Thursday night. Several communities reported flood conditions and nine bridges were threatened or washed out and at least three trains stranded.

Taft Proposes Armed Alliance With U.K.

Republican Leader Denies Proposing U.S. Should Adopt 'Go-It-Alone' Policy

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft today proposed a military alliance with Great Britain in the Far East in a statement denying that he favored a "go it alone" policy.

The Ohio senator issued his statement in reply to the criticism of the foreign policy statement he made at an eliminatory meeting May 22. His critics included President Eisenhower, who told a news conference two days later that this nation needs allies and cannot go it alone.

In his statement today, Taft said he had received a number of questions about his views expressed at Cincinnati and that there was only one matter which he felt called for further explanation.

"At no time did I use the words that the United States should 'go it alone' in the Far East or anywhere else," he said.

"I pointed out that our whole present policy was a policy of military alliance building up the nations willing to use their arms to fight the Communists if they are attacked."

NATO AS EXAMPLE

"What I said was that we should forget the United Nations as far as the further conduct of the Korean war is concerned. I pointed out that we had already done exactly this in Europe, relying entirely upon the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) alliance, a military treaty between defense nations to prevent Soviet aggression."

Taft said he also pointed out that the UN has proved a "complete failure" in preventing aggression because the big power veto in the Security Council can block action. He said the UN General Assembly never had any power except to make recommendations.

The Korean war, he said, is presumably being fought under direction of a UN Assembly committee.

"But on the committee concerned with the war are India and many other countries which say they are not on the side of the United Nations at all but are neutral in the fight," Taft said.

"How ridiculous that our course should be guided by nations claiming with one breath to be part of the United Nations and with the other to be opposed to the principles declared by the Assembly of the United Nations, namely, the driving of the Chinese from Korea and its unification."

Taft said that if the United States is able to "disentangle" itself from the UN, it already has treaties with Australia, New Zealand, Japan and the Philippines and "a very definite understanding" with the French in Indo-China.

"I think we should have a free hand to form an alliance with the British if we possibly

DOUKS MUM AS RCMP SEEK FIRE CAUSES

GILPIN, B.C. (UPI) — DOUKS MUM, bushy-tempered, mum today as the RCMP tried to find out what caused a series of fires in the Sons of Freedom settlement.

The police said they believed the fires were incendiary, and followed the recent other outbreaks of arson by the radical Russian sect. Gilpin is 10 miles south of Grand Forks.

Police said the fire destroyed a home and three sheds owned by Walter Storhoff and Mike Barikoff. However, investigating officers said they could not find anybody admitting knowing anything about the fires.

Prize-winning trout in the Flin Flon festival in northern Manitoba in 1951 and 1952 each weighed 37 pounds.

Liberal MP Predicts Victory in August

COURTENAY—J. L. Gibson, MP, expects a federal election August 10, with the Liberal party victorious.

"No party in Canada can get a big majority without a big roster of members from Quebec," he said here Thursday.

A downtown Vancouver hotel was listed as the return address.

Living Cost Down 6th Month in Row

Index Drops Two-Tenths of a Point to 114.4
Owing to Food Prices; Clothing, Rents Up

OTTAWA (UPI)—The new consumer price index and the old cost-of-living index both declined fractionally during April due mainly to lower food prices, the Bureau of Statistics said today.

The consumer price index registered a decline of two-tenths of a point during the month, decreasing from 114.6 on April 1 to 114.4 on May 1. The cost of living index declined three-tenths of a point from 183.9 to 183.6.

The latest fractional decrease conforms to the pattern recorded by the index during the past 16 months. During this period the index has declined steadily from a peak of 118.2 in January, 1952.

The food index decreased from 110.9 to 110.1 between April 1 and May 1. Lower prices for butter, potatoes, tomatoes, onions, beef and veal outweighed increases for coffee, eggs, grapefruit, lettuce and fresh cured pork.

The clothing series index increased from 109.7 to 110.1 as the result of fractional price advances in a number of items. However, the household operation index dropped from 116.9 to 116.6 chiefly as a result of seven of the 30 series, including a seasonal drop in the price of long copper, oats, sisal (an insect in Ontario and Quebec), industrial fabrics and paper.

Counter-balancing increases at Toronto, imported silk and decreases in other items and coal and white lead were scattered throughout this. The composite index for Ca-

The index for commodities, terminal markets and services advanced from 213.6 to 218.7. Animal products prices rose from 255. Increases in the price of 266.9 and field products detheatre tickets and haircuts declined from 172.2 to 170.5.

Incredible Story of Japan's Mammoth Warship To Be Shown

TOKYO (AP)—The last day of a battleship, the sinking of the mammoth Yamato late in the Pacific war, will be shown to Japanese movie-goers this month in a documentary film.

The Japanese say the 72,800-ton Yamato, sunk by United States carrier planes, was the biggest fighting ship ever built. It was wrapped in so much secrecy from the time it was built in 1935 until it sank off Kyushu April 7, 1945, that not even a picture was released. The Japanese navy refused to confirm there was such a ship.

The Yamato, 861 feet long and mounting nine 18-inch guns, made its last sorties on a special attack suicide mission. It steamed out of Kure naval base for Okinawa with enough fuel for only a one-day trip. None of the 3,332 crew members expected to return.

There was no air cover at all. Japan couldn't afford it. Eight destroyers and a cruiser escorted the battlewagon on its final mission. They represented the last of the once great Japanese navy.

The desperate mission wound up in failure. Instead of reaching Okinawa as intended, some 1,000 U.S. carrier planes assaulted the Yamato off Kyushu.

The Sad Case of Mr. Perdue

WE FIND IT HARD, FOR A number of reasons, to get agitated over the sad fate of Mr. John Perdue, president of the Social Credit League, who has now confessed to being convicted of taking money under false pretenses.

To begin with, the charge against him was laid by a certain Dr. Kemp, an Independent candidate, who admitted at the outset that he is a former Social Creditor who had been "given the brush-off by Premier Bennett." The Premier has since made public a letter in which Dr. Kemp put a price on his return to the party: chairmanship of a proposed medical board of review, which was ignored.

Secondly, by his own admission Dr. Kemp is "in bad already" with his own profession, whatever that may mean.

Thirdly, in spite of the fact that Dr. Kemp argues it was his duty to prevent an ex-convict from entering the B.C. House, the charge was such as to make it an obvious gambit for political expediency.

Welcome from the Heart

VICTORIA, PREPARING TO share in a number of spectacular and entertaining events on an elaborate program, has particular reason to extend a warm welcome to Nobles of the Mystic Shrine here for their three-day convention.

Beyond the normal courtesies extended to guests from all parts of the continent, the community will doubtless wish to express appreciation to thousands of members of the order for their humanitarian work for crippled children.

For almost 30 years Shriners have made their objective the assistance of very young children handicapped through some injury or ailment. Theirs has been the gratifying task of assisting such youngsters to a more normal life, healing the maimed through the help of one of the world's greatest philanthropies. Though the costs of the hospitals they maintain are immense, they count the funds well-spent. Their reward is the sight of a child cured of twisted limbs and other disfigurements—the young tree grown straight.

Apart from their important business and other private sessions, the visiting nobles, joined by their brothers here, will participate in a number of events open to the public. This community extends to them good wishes for an enjoyable visit and a vote of sincere appreciation for the humanitarian work for which they are internationally known.

Shock Treatment on Traffic

A SPEAKER FOR THE DOMINION Board of Insurance Underwriters and the Canadian Underwriters' Association has used a shock technique in an effort to impress car drivers.

The shock is offered by two simple and reliable statistics: One third of Canada's cars were involved in accidents last year; and one out of every two Canadians will be injured in traffic during his lifetime.

These are the facts the speaker emphasized in an effort to dispel the notion commonly held by drivers that they lead charmed lives and that mishaps always befall the other person. And the statistics become even more impressive with the statement that the greatest single cause of traffic accidents is the driver—not bad roads, poor driving conditions or mechanical failure.

If such statements can persuade the reckless driver that he is not among this two-thirds who may expect to avoid accidents this year or is not one of the 50 per cent destined to go through life uninjured in traffic, they will have served a useful purpose.

Unfortunately, those who have no sense don't scare easily.

Self-Help in the Orchard

REPORTS FROM THE EXPERIMENTAL station indicate that tree fruit growers on the Island are about to make a concerted effort to capture their share of the local market.

They intend to follow a course of upgrading their produce and making it more attractive in the eyes of the prospective purchaser.

This approach to solving a problem of wasted fruit is sane and desirable. No one in Greater Victoria would prefer to buy apples, pears and plums from more distant fruit farms if the local product were the equal of imports and if prices were equivalent.

The tree fruit growers apparently recognize the fact that there is only one way out of the difficulty they face on the Greater Victoria and Island market. That is to supply a commodity as good as or better than their competitors and at a price which meets that of shippers who send their fruit here. That is a self-reliant way of meeting their problem, and it is much more appealing than requests for government protection.

The function of the press is a necessary adjunct to real democracy. Man has found no better way in which to disseminate the information that is the life-blood of political freedom, to expound the opinions that are the basis of party government, to provide a forum for public expression of ideas.

Knowledge is the only solution to the intricate problems of the modern age. If the people are to meet the demands and responsibilities of their enfranchisement they must know the truth. Where the public meeting is limited in its audience, the press can reach all sections of the people.

But if the press is necessary to democracy, democracy is also necessary to a proper employment of the press. When dictators of the right or left interfere with the publication of accurate news they are cutting deep into the roots of freedom and the democratic plant soon dies.

It is appropriate therefore to compliment the Gazette at this time—and also the nation which nurtures it in freedom.

THIS WEEK THE MONTREAL Gazette celebrated its 175th birthday robustly healthy and vigorous, if slightly crusty in its attitudes on certain questions.

From its modest beginnings as La Gazette du Commerce et Littéraire on June 3, 1778—a special-purpose publication planted in the Canadian centre to further interests tied to the American revolution—the newspaper has risen to major national stature and maintained an influence of wide importance.

There are many points of policy on which a large number of Canadians and a large number of Canadian newspapers disagree with the Gazette. There is, nevertheless, a wholesome regard for the craftsmanship of its publication and for the manner in which it helps to maintain the standards of the free press in this country.

After one and three-quarter centuries the Gazette preserves a unique strength—just as the Ottawa Citizen which observed its 110th anniversary in April.

They draw attention to the fact that Canada, both east and west, enjoys a tradition of long-established newspapers, forthright in their

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

PARIS—The capital of France is not a city. It is a skein of hand-trick a mirage, a state of mind. It can never be duplicated and that is just as well. If everyone lived in such a place the world's work would cease. The most industrious Canadian would become a lounger in a sidewalk cafe. No North American, in fact should be exposed for long to this seduction of sunshine, perfume, food, wine and beauty or he will never do anything useful again.

To the stranger Paris is huge but to the native, as a rather bored taxi driver explained, it is really a very small town. Small, that is to say, because all true Parisians know one another's business and there is no more privacy than in Sarnia or Moose Jaw.

NO ONE wants privacy anyway. As a result, Paris must be the most public place in the world. Lovers embrace openly, respectfully and at length on the boulevards day and night (the woman being always the aggressor), everybody seems to live in the streets, which are more beautiful than any living room, a woman's wife averages four cocktail parties a day at this time of year as one of them informed me, the air is deafening with the roar of automobile horns.

In Paris were France probably there would be little hope for sorely tried and deeply confused nation. For the centrepiece of Parisian life is mere enjoyment of the hour, and in the pursuit of happiness it has doubtless succeeded better than any spot on earth.

OF ALL this North Americans, how paying taxes to subsidize France, are highly critical, but they cannot remain here more than a few days without themselves falling into the Parisian mood which regards the discovery of a new restaurant or a new actress as the most important business of the day.

Even the late Mackenzie King, a man not given to idleness, could not entirely resist this peculiar allure. At Joseph's famous restaurant he is well remembered as a good trencherman and a connoisseur of wine. There he took pen in hand to write down his praises of both. Of this Joseph, the second son of the original, is very proud and always shows the Prime Minister's testimonial to Canadian visitors.

Hitler viewed Paris from a noble esplanade overlooking the Seine, the Eiffel Tower and the gilt dome of the Invalides where his predecessor, Napoleon, lies. He went there at 3 a.m. in the first light of the summer dawn before the town was awake, but he did not stay long. One suspects that he was afraid of Paris. Once touched by this genial spirit, the whole philosophy of Nazism or of another dictatorship must soon collapse.

THE PURSUIT of happiness takes many curious forms, especially among women. At the moment, for example, almost every female in Paris over sixteen years of age has bleached a white streak in her hair, exactly in the manner of the Canadian skunk; or if she disapproves the regulation treatment her coiffure is flecked with a variety of tints ranging from salmon to pure purple. The setting sun, poised for a moment like a great orange in the curve of the Arc de Triomphe, is a spectacle no more arresting and colorful than many a feminine head on the Champs Elysees.

Paris is said to be a wicked city. Naturally, this aged reporter, tired by 6,000 miles of Europe, would not know about that. I can only report that the Folies Bergere, commonly reputed to be shocking, is a very dull affair, badly acted, sung and danced, with hardly more than a dozen nudes, who earn a poor livelihood at $157 a month by disappearing every night into the smoking pit of hell and, a few minutes later, into a cold swimming pool.

HERE MUST be easier ways to make a living. One's only emotion, on witnessing this expensive absurdity, is a paternal sort of pity.

To tell the truth, I left before the show was half over and spent the rest of the evening in the Latin Quarter at a cafe called The Two Maggots with a Canadian poet (who had grown a beard for local atmosphere), a crowd of shabby art students from all over the world, a lady who writes movies and an old man with ferocious whiskers, who played a French horn very badly but collected quite a large revenue of paper francs within it from the sympathetic listeners.

There is, of course, another and older Paris. It sprang up on an island in the Seine long before the Romans arrived and there it stands today.

AT AN HOUR the Cathedral of Notre Dame, riding the current like an opulent galleon, must be the mightiest picture in Europe. In moonlight, all its towers, buttresses and carvings reduced to sharp black and white, it seems to transcend the cunning of man and to grow, a flower of unutterable loveliness, out of the narrow earth.

The rest of Paris, however, is man's boastful attempt to improve on nature and here, as in the search for pleasure, he has succeeded, I suppose, better than anywhere else. He has taken a third-class river, a mud flat, a few stunted hills and turned them into a kind of glittering idol, idolatrously worshipped by all beholders.

Genius, civil war, revolution and oceans of blood have gone into this work of centuries and it never ceases for a moment. Everywhere some new architect raises yet another masterpiece, more trees and flowers are planted, streets are widened and the great mirage constantly expands and proliferates, always according to plan—the fixed, logical and geometrical plan of the French mind.

BUT THERE is more than genius here. There is also unutterable labor, seen from the arm chairs of the boulevards. Where I am writing this, in a dark hotel room, I can see across the tiny courtyard into a window where a dozen wrinkled women have been sewing fashionable clothes since seven this morning and will cease their toil at seven this evening. They, and not the idle, perfumed and peroxided crowds of the Champs are the people of France.

As Our Readers See It

DOESN'T LIKE ADS.

Thank the Lord for the CBC which will give us some entertainment with little advertisement. CKDA is mostly "Glimme."

I tuned in baseball recently as I like the game. In about an hour I heard at least one hundred cries of $1.00 an hour for a heating product. That is all the baseball I want on the radio.

I will donate some money to someone who can invent a way to show the radio stations that we shut them off.

INVESTIGATION

Mrs. Garnett Weston is reported as saying that Premier Bennett should make a complete investigation of the press" when he is returned to office.

Mr. Bennett, of course, may not be returned to office. But what a free people in this neck of the woods would like to know from Mrs. Weston is what she means by "a complete investigation of the press."

I demand that Mrs. Weston come out in the open and tell the people what she means by her advice to Mr. Bennett. If she favors gestapo methods, let her say so and be honest about it.

90 YEARS

May I give my opinion on matters that concern us today. Anyone who has given thought about our monetary system knows full well, that it is rotten.

Now we have an election coming up and we Socreds are accused of mud slinging. As I see it the mud will only stick to our opponents, who certainly try to it on thick. Then what about Christianity is dead without Worship?

GUIDANCE

May one remind critics of the Social Credit Party's appeal for Divine guidance, that King Solomon, who was perhaps wiser than some of our modern politicians, said that "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain; that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman wake not in vain."

B.C. cannot afford to go backward with Social Credit—with its strange notions of press muzzling and less for education, to say nothing of its main fantasy of monetary reform.

ELECTION EXPENSE

Oak Bay residents must be bewildered at the statements the Liberal Party's standard bearer in that district is making, the latest of which is a quote from some of the literature being circulated:

"I deplore the expense of such an election."

How utterly absurd for him to make such statements when only a few days past some other newspaper gave much space to telling its subscribers the amount of money spent to conduct the last election, and what do we find that the very man who says "he deplores the expense of an election" is the one and only of all candidates in the last fracas who really went to town in spending the dollars—and how they flowed. Surely now he isn't trying to tell us he is wanting to practice "economy" when the records show otherwise.

INDEPENDENT VOTERS

Since Confederation, there has always been in Canada an independent body of voters whose votes decided the fate of governments.

Independent voters in British Columbia have, at this time, a really serious responsibility. We came alarmingly close to electing a Socialist government last year. It therefore behoves independent voters to make sure that it does not happen this year.

Furthermore, indications are that years immediately ahead will be less prosperous than recent years were. Under these circumstances, a strong government will be needed to cope with conditions arising.

The minority Socred government made a good record, and the party that elected it is the only one capable of electing a majority of members to the legislature.

It is, therefore, of first importance that independent voters help return the Social Credit government to office with a good majority.

This government is worthy of our support, and it is most important that we vote accordingly on June 9.

The CCF and Car Insurance

For years I have enjoyed reading letters to the editor, but this is the first time that I have felt that my 10 cents worth should be contributed. My action was prompted as the result of listening to a prepared CCF radio broadcast extolling certain merits of the Saskatchewan Automobile Insurance Plan, all of which could be purchased for approximately $20 on a late model car.

The implication was that this same plan could be offered to B.C. motorists if the CCF party was elected on June 9.

9. No mention was made of the reduced protection of the compulsory plan, nor was any comparison made in driving conditions.

The following information obtained from reliable sources may be of interest.

The Saskatchewan compulsory plan in 1952 suffered a loss of $1,238,362 and this loss would have been greater had not some 4,500 motorists bought private insurance.

The Saskatchewan plan refuses to pay any part of a loss incurred (regardless of who is at fault) until any private insurance involved has been used up. Were it not for this, the losses would have been greater.

For the first three months of 1953 Saskatchewan government figures show the total number of accidents up 49.30 per cent and property damage up from $46,912 to $754,030. Any claim except injury to a third person is subject to $10 deductible under the compulsory plan while the only deductible under private insurance is for collision cover on one's own car.

Thus each party to an accident must pay $100 regardless of fault, whereas under private policies only the person at fault has to pay, the first $100 to his own car only.

Since many accidents involve less than $100 damage to either car, the owners are still stuck with the repair bills, and the compulsory plan avoids paying either the losses or the cost of handling the claims. This is the most important difference.

Roads are straight and the country is flat and this means fewer accidents. Rural roads are not cleared of snow in the winter and the farm car owner cannot use his car for five months of the year. The absence of large cities with heavy traffic concentration means far fewer accidents per 1,000 cars than in southwestern B.C. I have been informed that there are fewer cars by 50,000 driving each day in the whole of Saskatchewan than there are, for example, in the city of Toronto alone.

Private companies engaged in automobile business in B.C. last year lost millions. Saskatchewan rates look good but in view of the above, do you not think that the CCF information is slightly misleading?

To You Belongs the Future . . .

THIS is the season when high school seniors prepare for "graduation" and when well-meaning adults chosen for the occasion whip into shape speeches they consider appropriate for the event.

Probably no more flattering invitation can be given to a man than one asking him to speak to a graduating class. Perhaps no more sincere effort is ever made by a speaker to present a message of importance and significance than that the one tries to give the students on their big night.

But I can't help wondering how many of them get through to their listeners, make a real impression or have any influence on the future of the class members.

There isn't any lack of sincerity on the part of the speakers. There isn't any lack of sincerity on the part of the students. There's just that difference between the outlooks and emotions of an adult and a young person—and it's a difference that seems almost unbridgeable.

An older person is inclined to look at students on graduation night as a sort of abstract "youth" entering a new phase of life. It's a fair enough attitude, but the boys and girls in the dark suits and bright dresses are concerned more with the here and now than with the nebulous future.

ADVICE AND NO TAKERS

It's a fitting time to give them a little kindly advice, if the person speaking is considered wise enough. Most of the younger than 20 are inclined to heed advice?

If you're in your forties and look back to the day of your own "graduation" when there was no formal ceremony to compare with the present spectacle, you'll recall that

Strain on the Alliance

THIS seems a good moment to have a look at the troublesome problem of Anglo-American relations. Despite all the fanfare about the Coronation, America's relations with Britain are bad already, and are getting worse.

If the strain increases much further, in fact, the Western alliance will at least be paralyzed, if not finally disrupted.

It remains to be seen why this should be so. If you make careful inquiries among the American and British officials and others who know the problem, the answer to the question appears to come in three parts.

First of all, there are the surface irritants. The anti-American carryings-on of Aneurin Bevan in London, and the anti-British propaganda of Senator McCarthy in Washington, are curiously similar. Each of these politicians hopes to make important personal gains by breaking up the Western alliance, which also happens to be the Kremlin's principal objective.

McCarthy and what he stands for are Bevan's greatest assets in Britain. Bevan, and what he stands for are McCarthy's most useful assets in America.

Yet neither Bevan nor McCarthy would have got very far, if it had not been for the fundamental difference in Britain's and America's national situation.

As of today, however, what is fundamentally different is the attitude of the two nations towards the ever-present risk of a third world war.

For instance, a considerable number of Americans, even including such high officials as the future chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Admiral Radford, can and do believe in some form or other of war with Communist China. The risk of general war is obviously inherent in this and other ventures that

IN HOLLYWOOD*TV Movies Reach New High

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — More television films are being made in Hollywood today than theatre movies, and the man who pioneered the TV-on-film business says the town "once thought I was mad."

The Hal Roach Studio was the first movie factory to go in for home screen movies back in 1947, when only 13,000 TV sets flickered in Los Angeles and only a handful of cities in the U.S. boasted TV stations.

Today Hollywood bustles with 23 television movies in production, but only 21 theatre movies. A year ago 33 theatre movies were before the cameras; two years ago, 44.

"We had to try to convince television people of the possibility of using film," explained Hal Roach Jr. "They were mostly ex-radio people and they didn't know much about pictures. We didn't know much about radio. It took some doing for us all to get together."

"Then you heard the argument on any New York street corner that TV never would be on film and the TV industry never would come to the west coast. They couldn't understand our argument that filmed shows could be used over and over. We just sold 100 old 'racket squad' films for a million dollars."

You thought about getting a job and, in a pretty impractical way, you thought about a new car, smart clothes, going places and doing the things you wanted to do.

Your head was probably filled with a "Moonlight and Roses" romance and nothing seemed more emotionally stirring than the affection you had for a class sweetie—an affection you were certain was not puppy love.

INARTICULATE

You probably felt pretty proud of being a Canadian when a Canadian won some outstanding event in athletics. Unconsciously almost, you believed Canada was a good place to grow up in, even if you basked occasionally for the bright lights of an American city and the entertainment of big name bands and fancy floor shows.

It's a little hard for anyone under 20 to have developed that sense of affection for a country that comes with maturity. It's asking quite a lot of young people to expect a well-defined sense of citizenship as those who are older define it and feel it.

Now that these sentiments aren't present in young people. They are. But the affections and the attitudes aren't clearly articulated in words. They're more emotional than logical, more based on instinct and sensitive heart.

Maybe the younger generation is more mature now than it was in the graduating class 10 years ago. But the young people will follow the words of graduation speakers with a more adult response.

At all events, it's worth trying to get through to them. That's part of the ritual and it could be an important influence.

It's a fitting time to give them a little kindly advice, if the person speaking is considered wise enough.

650 Chilly Citizens Cheer, Jeer Candidates For City Seats at Jaycees' Election Rally

The Junior Chamber of Commerce election forum at Royal Athletic Park Thursday night attracted 650 Victorians who alternately cheered and jeered 14 city candidates in the June 9 election.

For two hours the candidates said their pieces, and for another hour the audience shivering by this time, took over the show by asking the most embarrassing questions it could.

Total of 153 written questions were popped at the candidates, but capable chairman Alf Heaslip had to close the meeting after about number 30 when the chill night became too uncomfortable.

Everybody went home satisfied they'd had a good night's entertainment and content that democracy was still batting a thousand.

Here, in brief form, are the remarks of the candidates in the order they spoke.

Insurance at Cost

VICTOR ALLEN, CCF — "A CCF government will provide car insurance at cost in B.C."

He said a 1952 Chevrolet's insurance in B.C. cost in 1952 $18, but only $38 in Saskatchewan because the CCF government in the Prairie province provided insurance at cost.

The CCF will pay back premiums to $33 and $21 (now $39 and $56) institute an air ambulance service, and provide care for chronic and convalescent cases.

Letter Lost in Mails

MRS. LYDIA ARSENS, SO-CRED — Mrs. ArSENS denied failing to reply to a TLC questionnaire on labor issues.

"I replied but the letter was lost in the mail. I have the labor class at heart as much as anyone," she said.

The candidate was booted after stating a part-time Labor Relations Board is best for B.C. But she said she had the courage to answer "no" to some of the questions on the questionnaire. The others answered "yes" all down the line, she claimed.

Mrs. ArSENS favored arbitration rights for civil servants.

Creation of Jobs, Aim

MRS. DORIS BLAKELY, LPP — "B.C.'s raw materials should be manufactured in B.C. so jobs can be created for our own people," Mrs. Blakely contended. She said a $75,000 refinery is being built in Anacortes to process Canadian oil, and the 1,500 jobs will be held by Americans. This is "exporting jobs."

"Past governments have allowed the sale of our raw products to the United States, and we have to buy back the manufactured product at the highest possible price," the candidate said.

Commonsense Platform

ART CHAPMAN, PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE — "We Conservatives believe in commonsense, industrious, honest government," said Mr. Chapman.

He felt the best way to save people's money is by sound administration of public affairs.

"If you see fit to elect me, I'll be at your service. I won't change just because a few people happen to support me," Mr. Chapman stated.

First Cheer, Then Jeer

MRS. NANCY HODGES, LIBERAL — Mrs. Hodges was cheered when she criticized the Socred government for canceling hospital insurance delinquencies.

But when she said the Liberals will abolish co-insurance, there was derisive laughter and someone shouted:

It's

"Why didn't you do it when you were in office?"

"We had to get the scheme on its financial feet first," she replied as someone hollered, "Atta girl, Nancy."

Mrs. Hodges termed "an absolute lie" Socred literature which said the opposition had a government bill to reduce car license fees.

"No such bill was ever presented to the House," she said.

Ignorance Enthroned

COLIN CAMERON, CCF — When the Socreds took office in B.C., Mr. Cameron said it was "the first time we'd had ignorance enthroned" and the dignity of our parliament dragged in the dust."

Premier Bennett dismissed his own political affairs by foretelling his government's defeat," said Mr. Cameron.

He said the CCF party has a long and honorable record of "attending to your affairs."

Old Parties Audacious

WILLIAM CHANT, SO-CRED — The Liberals and Conservatives for centuries have run the affairs of the world, and now have the audacity to blame communism and socialism for the condition of the world. Communism and socialism are dead," said Mr. Chant.

He said it's "no wonder" all parties are "ganging up" on Social Credit.

"Oh, come now," shouted a disbeliever.

"Social Credit stepped into the gap left by the patronage riddled, dictatorial Liberals and Conservatives," said Mr. Chant.

LPP Speaks for Youth

ARCHIBALD MC GUGAN, LPP — "The LPP is the only party in this campaign standing up for the interests of young people. All other parties are backing the war policies of the federal government," said Mr. McGugan.

The LPP, he said, believes the prime requisite for B.C. to progress and allow young people a full life is to have world peace.

He said B.C. will not develop to the fullest extent while raw materials are being shipped elsewhere for manufacture."

Tories Unspectacular

ROBERT PATCH, PC — "We Conservatives haven't a spectacular program. There's nothing spectacular about common sense and honesty," said Mr. Patch.

He said the formula would

"Aw, go drink your milk," shouted a heckler referring to the Tory's promise of half a pint of milk for school children.

Mr. Patch said it's "too bad some people have to hire paid mud-slingers."

"Anybody who has listened to the radio here recently will know who I mean," he said.

Anti-Labor Indication

CAPT. D. J. PROUDFOOT, LIBERAL — The candidate criticized the Socred government for forgiving hospital insurance delinquents, and said the only person now compelled to pay premiums is the man on a payroll.

"This is typical of the anti-labor Socreds," he said, and received mixed boos and applause.

Capt. Proudfoot said the loss in revenue through the Liberals' promise to cut car licenses to $10 could be made up by the natural increase in gas tax revenue.

Replying to a heckler, the candidate said license fees weren't cut before because the money was needed for roads.

"Where are they?" the heckler replied.

For Honest Government

MONTE DRAKE, PC — "If we don't do what we're doing, we'll never elect the Conservatives," Mr. Drake said.

He said there's a tendency of "blather and nonsense" talked in the campaign, but only the French-Canadians are coming to the same realizations as Martin Luther did centuries ago," he said. "There are untried opportunities for the reformed church to step into their lives provided there are enough men to do it."

"At the moment, thousands of thinking, questioning French-Canadians want someone to turn to."

Lumber Market Threat

IRVING MORTENSON, LPP — "A 10 per cent slump in the U.S. demand for B.C. lumber could wipe out our market," Mr. Mortenson said.

He deplored the declining export trade, and said the LPP wants B.C. to lead the way out from behind the "made in Canada" curtain."

"We should stop shipping our raw materials out of the country, and start manufacturing them ourselves for our own benefit," the candidate declared.

The LPP, he said, believes in a policy of "peace through trade."

Defends Rolston Plan

PERCY WRIGHT, SO-CRED — In a defense of the Rolston Formula, Mr. Wright said past governments have failed to solve the school financing problem for 30 years.

He said the formula would have saved Victoria considerable money.

"Let those who criticize our plan show us where they can do better," said Mr. Wright.

He advised the municipalities to "get ready for a new deal."

Slaps Back at Chant

MRS. MAY CAMPBELL, CCF — Mrs. Campbell hit back at Mr. Chant for accusing the CCF with lack of co-operation at the last session.

"The CCF is built on co-operation," she said.

She apologized for not answering a TLC questionnaire, but said it was an "oversight."

"Actually, there was no real need to reply — labor knows the attitude of the CCF to labor. We've always worked for labor," said Mrs. Campbell.

Capt. Proudfoot said the CCF is built on co-operation," she said.

SC Propaganda Hit by Facts
Says Saanich CCF Candidate

"The Socreds are afraid to deal with facts because facts are fatal to Socred propaganda," said Frank Snowsell, Saanich CCF candidate, at Deep Cove Thursday.

He answered a statement by the Socred candidate that Saskatchewan had borrowed $40,000,000 last year by quoting from the budget speech of Saskatchewan Provincial Treasurer Fines on March 4 last: "There have been no new borrowings since April 1, 1952 . . . our capital position is quite satisfactory."

"The Socreds," Mr. Snowsell said, "seem to follow Hitler's belief that it is impossible to underestimate the intelligence of the electorate."

INVESTMENTS GROW

He said the Socred claim that capital and labor fly from socialism was refuted by the fact that last year $350,000,000 of new investment went into Saskatchewan and this year oil companies alone are planning to spend $50,000,000 on new development. Saskatchewan's population, he said, had risen from 1951 to June 1952 by 11,000.

Mr. Snowsell quoted a B.C. department of finance publication.

ON THE OUTDOOR FRONT

With ROY THORSEN

Highlighting the news on this front for the week-end are two major shooting competitions at local ranges in which Vancouver Island championships will be the goal of participants.

They are the skeet championship tournament on the Albert Head Road grounds of the Victoria Gun Club and the island pistol championships on the new range of the South Vancouver Island Rangers off Elappy Valley Road. Both day-long shoots open at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Jack Betts Sr. in charge of the Rangers' classic, reports there will be competitors from south of the border, O'Dell and Mr. and Mrs. Backstrom from Hoquian, Wash. They are master shots. In both competitions there will be plenty of marksmen invading here from up-island and mainland points.

Thorson
The 1953 sport-fishing regulations for B.C. have no changes of note for the island. But the booklet does show that at many interior points the legal size limit of freshwater fish has been lowered to allow catching fish six inches in length. The island limit still stays at eight inches.

RAMBLING ABOUT—Regular meeting of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will be held Monday night at 8 at the Goldstream clubhouse. Inspector George Stevenson, island boss for the B.C. Game Department, will speak on the recent game convention held at Chilliwack. A film will be shown. Ladies of the club will provide refreshments. Small-mouth bass fishing is considered super in St. Mary's Lake, Salt Spring Island, by Ted Bailey. "The lake is literally bubbling with fish," he said.

This is borne out by a message received by Stan Williams. A Nanaimo party of 12 invaded the festive fishing lake this week. The score: All got limits, casting large bucktail flies and streamer flies. The fish went two and three pounds. The lake is also offering some trout up to three pounds. "I always claimed St. Mary's was the island's top bass fishing lake, but there are some who claim it's tops in North America," said Roger Monteith.

Tiny Richards, radio 960, 21 pounds, sprung off Galiano Bay Tuesday evening. He was using a Lucky Louie plug. . . . By the way we hear that Tiny will team up with Dick Berry (city detective) this fall for a hunting trip in the interior. (Under that heading we often hear doings like the way they spelled it)—"because the bucks on the island are getting too small," said Richards. He wants to bag something that will match his size.

Sauchich Inlet is still considered a fairly good spot for salmon fishing. Judging from catches registered this week, entrants in the ladder derby should weigh in salmon of any size they catch. They might though.

Persons responsible for the prize-winning Coronation float entered by the VSIAA to show the first-prize cruiser in the big derby were: President Wil Wilson, George Douglas (secretary), Andy Anderson (derby chairman), Johnny Angus, Wes Fulton, Cliff Heglin, Capt. A. C. Cruchley, Dave Donaldson, Ray Ritchie, Jim MacMillan, Don Essemont, Ralph Wherry and Jim Port of the executive plus Stan Williams, Frank Curtis, Bob Anderson. . . . It was a good show.

NOW AS SPACE WILL ALLOW—Bluebacks being taken off Ten Mile Point, . . . Sid Lewis, of Connex Bay Stores, in town to get a big supply of fishing tackle, says bluebacks of the bay, some springs. . . . Duke Turner, Qualicum Beach, says weather spoiling fishing, but many fish in those waters. . . . Bluebacks showing in Satellite Channel. . . . Lower Campbell Lake still classed as tops for trout fishing, especially for the trollers. . . . Shallowan Lake on this end of the island gets top rating for trout, variable weather proving tough for fly-fishermen, but trollers doing well.

Jack Harris, Victoria, with brother-in-law Bill Boyd, Cumberland, took 15 trout out of Lower Campbell last week-end on small spoons. . . . Experts figure Cowichan Lake will be fertile fishing waters in a couple of weeks. Fish being taken there now. Ted Davis of the Victoria motor firm taking 15 there last week-end.

Four Games Slated In Amateur Ball Circuit

By RON COULTER
With Victoria Tyees away from their home grounds until Monday, the Senior Amateur Baseball League takes over the local baseball spotlight this week-end.

Four games, first of which is scheduled tonight, are slated at Royal Athletic Park.

Wintess Orphans will take the field against third-place Page the Cleaner tonight at 6:30. Undefeated Farmer Construction are slated to meet Orphans Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Page the Cleaner will meet second-place Eagles Saturday night at 6:30, while Farmers and Cleaners vie for honors Sunday afternoon at 2.

So far this season the Senior Amateur League has inexplicably drawn only a scattered handful of spectators and the lack of support is undoubtedly disappointing.

The brand of ball played, naturally, is not on par with that of the Tyees, but the spirit and enthusiasm shown can be compared with that of any sport.

It will be remembered that Bill Prior and Berlyn Hodges, now hurling for the Tyees, graduated from this circuit and are making a good showing in faster company.

Farmers are definitely the class of the league, having won six straight contests all by a good margin. Bill Garner of Farmers is the league's top hurler with three straight victories. His teammate, Lowell Hodges, is the top batter in the circuit with a .636 average.

TIME OUT! BY KEATE

SONS TRIP SALMONACS

'Rocks Face Rugged Grind'

The topsy-turvy Intercity Lacrosse League schedule starts catching up with the Victoria Shamrocks tonight in Vancouver.

The Irish, who have played only one game in the last eight days, tonight meet PNE Indians at Vancouver Forum in the first of four games the Rocks will play in the next eight days.

Following tonight's tussle, the Rocks meet Vancouver Pilseers at Kerrisdale Arena Tuesday, are at home for Indians Wednesday night and for New Westminster Salmonacs Friday night.

Response of Arnold Ferguson's injured leg to treatments has prompted Shamrock coach Red McMillan to revamp his line-up for tonight's game. Ferguson will replace Harry Irwin on a line with Bob Maguire and Norm Coates, the latter moving up front from the defensive ranks.

Meanwhile, Nanaimo Native Sons successfully "squeezed" any hopes New Westminster entertained of moving up in league race, defeating the Salmonacs 10-7 Thursday.

DEATH ENDS
TODAY

It was something of an occasion for the Sons, being the first time in three years of trying that they had defeated Salmonacs at Queen's Park Avenue.

The victory boosted Nanaimo's fourth-place lead over Salmonacs to five points.

Nanaimo was the first to score, the first half when they outscored Salmonacs 6-2. Vern Vannatter was the outstanding man on the floor for the Sons. He got 90 per cent of the face-offs for the visitors and managed to add two goals.

Gladness for Sadness Mystic Shrine's Aim

Thousands of Nobles Assembling
For Ceremonies; Warmly Welcomed

As 4,000 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine arrived in Victoria today to attend 50th Anniversary ceremonial of Gizeh Temple, the city welcomed them as representatives of an organization which has earned a cordial reception wherever it goes.

"The Playground for Masons" the Shrine has been called for many years.

Actually in connection with the Masonic Order, although its petitioners are required to either Knights Templar or 32nd degree Scottish Rite Masons.

Shriners, however, stand on their own feet with an outstanding record of replacing gladness where sadness existed before, such a record that well-justified parallels are frequently drawn between the two organizations.

Red Cross.

The "sadness to gladness" program of Shriners is concentrated on crippled children and has been for nearly 30 years.

With emphasis on happiness, keeping alive in men the spirit of youth, cheer and relaxation, Shriners believe no man has any real right to play unless he has also contributed to the happiness of others.

A quarter million crippled children restored to a normal place in the society are proof of the Shriners' sincerity.

There appears every justification for the Shrine's claim that their program of healing the maimed has become the world's greatest philanthropy.

It has cost a staggering sum which they have cheerfully shelled out for the satisfaction they receive from the knowledge they are helping handicapped children in one of the 17 different Shrine hospitals in Canada, U.S.A., Hawaii and Mexico City.

"Our jewels are the cast-off braces and abandoned crutches of boys and girls who need them no more," a Shrine has said. "We glory in temples of baby smiles wherein every needy, crippled child is welcome. Our philosophy unites fellowship, friendship and a happy philosophy of life with the joy of doing good. We are writing history in the work we do for men and women of tomorrow."

Former French Premier Bidault Asked to Solve Government Crisis

PARIS (UPI) — President Vincent Auriol today called in Catholic Popular Republican (MPR) leader Georges Bidault to ask him to try to solve the French government crisis.

Auriol turned to the former premier and foreign minister after the national assembly rejected Radical Socialist Pierre Mendes-France's bid for the premiership.

Following a 30-minute interview with the president, Bidault told newsmen he "will consult my friends and give my answer to Mr. Auriol tomorrow morning."

The assembly action left France without a government for the third straight week as time grew near for scheduled for Big Three talks in Bermuda. Mendes-France—the first time they supported a candidate for premier in an investigation since they went to permanent opposition two years ago.

ODENSE, Denmark (AP)—A parson circled his vicarage for nearly half an hour Thursday night as he returned home after having passed a driving test. He said he had forgotten how to stop his car.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—A proposed wild west touch for the Calgary Stampede July 1618 is a bank hold-up by a rodeo bulldogger who then will "shoot up" the downtown area while escaping on horseback.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governess to Her Majesty

The intimate biography of Queen Elizabeth, written by her good friend and former governess Marion Crawford, is published in the Victoria Daily Times in 22 chapters. Over the 17 years of close association with the royal family "Crawfie" has previously published "The Little Princess" and "Mother and Queen: The Story of Queen Mary."

XXVII.

Queen Mary broke through much of the red tape which surrounded a woman of the Royal Family. Queen Elizabeth has followed in her grandmother's footsteps and gone a good deal further.

At the age of 16 she insisted on being allowed to join the ATS, and there obtained a valuable insight into the lives of other women, a knowledge she could never have picked up from a lifetime of tours and inspections.

From the first she has been interested in the problems which confront people outside palace walls. She has a deep concern for the underprivileged.

She hates to think of people suffering, or being denied sustenance or comfort.

Although as Queen she must remain above politics, it is certain that she will always keep an eye open for the rights of the individual.

Then, after those invaluable months in the ATS, she made the first time the public read of a princess lying on her back in a hospital bed, being driven with the engine of a lorry, she married Prince Philip.

That was a love match confirmed by the public. It was a beautiful and wonderful thing that Queen Elizabeth should have found in the man she loves a new and refreshing source of contact with the kind of people she will rule over.

NO CLOISTERS

The Duke of Edinburgh's life has not been led behind cloistered walls. He has lived always among men of action, whose thoughts and feelings he can translate to the Queen, giving her an insight she would never have been able to gather in any other way.

There is no doubt that the position of the Throne has undergone great development and a profound background knowledge about the meaning of her position in the world.

I often used to think, as I watched Princess Elizabeth leading a long line of dancers round the palace ballrooms during those informal evening parties she so enjoyed, that this was an entirely new view of royalty.

Not for her the distant dignity which makes the throne a thing of awe, and sometimes terrifying. She prefers that human approach more in keeping with the times and her own modern temperament.

She insisted that her husband should be allowed to rejoin the navy and continue the career he loved rather than stay at home and help her with her manifold duties.

GOOD HOUSEWIFE

It would not be hard to visualize Queen Elizabeth as Mrs. Montbatten, an entertaining sort of person, easy to please, ready to laugh, invariably considerate of the feelings of others. I see her as an excellent housewife and mother. Whatever she does, she does well.

And then, with a humanity which warmed many hearts, she flew out to him as soon as she could to catch for a little while the delight any wife takes in her husband's presence.

All this places her in an entirely personal position in British hearts. No one can feel about her that she is too just, too warm, too vital ever to be thought of in that way.

There are many state duties on the highest level which the Queen has to perform. All state documents must be signed by her. It is part of the law of the land that no statute passed by Parliament is legal until signed by the Sovereign.

And though the Queen cannot refuse to sign she will no doubt exercise the power of advice and suggestion so often used by her royal ancestors.

Each sovereign in turn, from his permanent status and his long knowledge of affairs of state, commands a wide area of experience.

Crises have come and gone and our Kings and Queens throughout the years have known how to deal with them.

A distinguished South African said, after observing Princess Elizabeth throughout the Royal Family's tour of the Dominion: "If there are still queens when she comes to inherit the throne, I think she will make the greatest one of all..."

And this, to me, is Elizabeth, the Queen of our time.

Shriners by Thousands Invade Victoria for Fete and Fun on Gizeh Golden Anniversary

He's a Noble of the Mystic Order of the Shrine. But he's not immune from the shopper's tax. So, K. F. Bew's, New Westminster, digs deep to send his wife's not around. (Times Photos by Bill Haikett.)

Shrine ladies followed her example. Looking on gleefully, J. Armstrong, Victoria, feels financially safe. His wife's not around. (Times Photos by Bill Haikett.)

Shriners at Thunderbird Park saw triple totem, then discovered fez. Figures were H. O. Stains, left, Portland; W. A. Coffin, Ashland, Puzzled observers, front row, are Dr. A. T. Neen, Vancouver; F. J. Fulton, Calgary; J. C. Mahoney, Regina; A. R. Harrison, J. L. Crow, Winnipeg; R. B. Allison, Ashland, back row, W. Pushie, Victoria, kneeling.

Prominent Shriners here today are L. C. Taylor, Potentate, Hillah Temple, Medford, Ore., and his official photographer, E. W. Brown, right. They are among more than 6,000 of their organization loose in Victoria streets today.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Just one little Coronation anecdote: In a store window is a mannequin representing Queen Elizabeth in her Coronation robes.

The figure stands at the head of a long strip of red plush carpet, and in her extended left hand is one of the symbols of the crown, the Orb.

A young man of about nine stood in front of the window for a long time, apparently fascinated by what he saw. Finally he turned to his mother and said, "Gee, mom, she bows left-handed."

Don McDermid, Queen's Printer, has distributed entry forms for the 17th Annual Graphic Arts Golf Tournament at Colwood Golf Club, June 21 (plug).

The form is illustrated with a cartoon depicting two golfers watching while a third, hidden deep in the woods, sends his ball out of trouble squarely toward the green.

One of the watching golfers remarks: "Swell shot. I sort of hate to tell him he left all his clubs out here."

Which brings to mind the old parlor on Joyce Kilmer's trees, dedicated to duffers. Remember?

I think that I shall never see
A hazard rougher than a tree
A tree o'er which my ball must fly
If on the green it is to lie;
A tree which stands that green to guard,
And makes the shot extremely hard,
A tree whose leafy arms extend
To kill the mashie shot I send;
A tree that stands in silence there
While angry golfers rave and swear.
Nimbicks were made for fools like me,
Who cannot even miss a tree.

A news item states that a plan suggested to one of the local service clubs was "supported unanimously by all members."

It would be a little more newsworthy if the plan had been supported unanimously by 75 per cent of the members.

Let's hope the sun will shine for the big parade tomorrow.

Shrine bandsmen who staged a special parade for Linda today pose with the little girl with the two broken legs. Her mother, brother, Butchie, look on.

STAR-EYED CHILD SHRINERS' AUDIENCE

Fez-Men's Magic Drives Off Woe

A busload of red-fezzed, beaded and sashed Shrine bandsmen formed up on a little side street in Victoria today.

The leader gestured, "Get ready," tipped to a spot beneath a second-story window at 2028 Stanley—motioned again, and the sweet, popular strains of "Linda" wafted gently in the afternoon air.

Upstairs a mother smiled, carried a little six-year-old girl to the window ... a little girl with two broken legs—Linda, six.

Linda couldn't speak. She could only hug herself and gaze wide-eyed at the nicest present a little shut-in ever had, a parade especially for her.

Then she laughed and clapped as the 36 Shriners marched and counter-marched on the street below. It was almost more than Linda could believe, and more was to come.

After the shiny brass horns and the big bass drum and the noisy cymbals were lowered, and the kindly Shriners stood smiling on Linda, Illustrous Potentate of the Gizeh Temple, Robert H. Johnson, kissed the little girl on the cheek and gave her a cheque for $100.

It was because Linda is a sweet little girl who loves parades, but couldn't go to the Coronation march nor to the Shriners' procession Saturday ... and because Shriners love children.

It's second nature for Shrine bandsmen to seek out distressed youngsters and make the way easier for them. They moved right in when they heard about Linda, how she fell from a swing at Beacon Hill Park and snapped both ankles last Sunday.

The little girl was having a push from her dad when all of a sudden she was lying on the grass writhing in pain.

Nurses at Jubilee Hospital emergency ward were captivated with the little girl's brave manner. The story got out, how it hurt to miss the parades, how there is no employee medical benefit where Linda's father works in the Jubilee Hospital laundry, how her mother needs an operation soon, as well.

So there was a magical, fairytale ending. Linda will always believe in magic—the magic of the Shriners.

I noticed some rosy Winesap apples today... oh, so juicy and sweet! Two pounds sell at 35 cents. Rhubarb is 7 cents per pound.

If HE owns a convertible, you'll know what it means to have wind-blown hair! You won't have to wear a bothersome scarf if your locks are kept in place with a spray-on hair net. Hold atomizer tin about 12 inches from hair, spray with the misty, unnoticeable web, and hair will stay softly in position. Spray net costs $1.75 per tin.

Youngsters go wild about Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse tooth brushes! You'll never have to coax them to brush their teeth with one of these... 29 cents.

Traveling tooth brushes are convenient and messless. Hollow handle separates from brush and acts as a container for it. Compact! Price is 60 cents.

Do you have the usual housewife's complaint, "No cupboard space"? Then you'll want a set of five compact glasses that fit together, taking the place of one! Made-in-Holland of crystal glass, they are inexpensive yet good looking, and you'll use them for the best of company. Set of liqueur, sherry, cocktail table wine and water glasses sell for $3.95.

Bright colored plastic jelly molds are used for attractive wall plaques, too... In shapes of fish or lobsters, they have holes for hanging.

Wife, Ill 5 Years, Called Lazy by Mate

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

When a woman is sick or sickly she cannot be expected to do what she did before. The husband of this woman does not seem to understand this:

(Q.) "Since the birth of my baby I have been to the hospital five years in a row. I worked between two operations and when I had to quit through sickness, my husband called me lazy. So far, I've had four minor operations. I am still under the doctor's care and can't do some of my housework so my husband has to help me. He tells me I'm making believe I'm sick. I weigh less than 100 pounds and feel tired all the time. Before I went to the hospital, I used to do all the housework, including the washing and floors. How can I convince my husband that I'm not lazy?"

(A.) Why not ask your doctor to explain to your husband what is wrong with you and why you cannot do the type of work you did before your baby arrived? If your husband does not realize that four operations plus childbirth, in a period of five years, can play havoc with a woman's health, it is high time that the doctor told him so.

It would be wrong for you to allow your husband to make you do work of the type that might send you back to the hospital for another operation and might even make an invalid out of you for years. This you must avoid at any cost.

If he objects to helping you with the heavy work or with any of the chores on days you are not feeling well, let them go or hire someone to come in. If he had to pay to have it done, he might think twice about refusing to help you.

The very fact that you weigh so little now would suggest that your health is below par. Keep on going to the doctor until you are well and don't work until you feel equal to it. Otherwise, your husband and child will both suffer from your husband's negligence.

Face and Hair Problems Plague Readers Today

Q.—"Will you please tell me in your column if anything can be done about thin, purplish lines that appear on the nose?"

A.—Yes, they can be removed, but by a skilled dermatologist only. Not all skin specialists do this.

Q.—"Since I was about nine years old I have had white heads in my cheeks. Will you tell me if the use of beauty masks will remove them? I once had them removed by a dermatologist."

A.—I was going to tell you that they can be removed. You may have to have it done again. However, stimulation is beneficial. For this reason the use of a complexion brush with soap and water is indicated. The value of beauty masks would also be that they are stimulating and bring the blood to the surface of the skin.

Q.—"I am 14 years old and have very thick, blond hair. I have it thinned about every six months. It is very straight and I get a permanent at least once a year, but the curls come out and then it is just fuzzy. Can you give me any suggestions?"

A.—It may be that the operator put in too much curl—curled it too tightly. You might try another one and tell her or him of the trouble you have been having. However, even when you have a new permanent your hair requires frequent setting to avoid the problem you mention.

Q.—"I am 14 years old. My waist measures 25½ inches, bust 33 inches and hips 33½ inches. Am I in proportion?"

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

This morning I've been looking at a small program, not more than six inches by four-inches in size. . . . Its cover is the Turkish red of a Shrine's fez and lettered in gold and black on it are the words, "Gizeh Temple, AAONMS, Ceremonial Session, Masonic Temple, Victoria, B.C."

On the first page inside the cover are these words, "Last great event this year, business and ceremonial, on Ramadan, 9th month, 12th day, Hegira, 1323." And further down the page, . . . "Sumptuous Music! Bursting Bombs! Frisky Camels! Prodigies Processions! Solemn Chanting! Glorious Apotheosis! Zinkers on the Son of All!"

"Don't forget your fez, your claws, your . . ."

That program marked a Gizeh Temple Ceremonial in the days before the First World War when possibly 100 members answered the call . . . when the Temple was in Victoria . . . and not in Vancouver.

When a class of 10 novitiates was considered to be a large group to "cross the burning sands."

In those days . . . just as now . . . there was a good deal of good-natured bantering as to the process of becoming a member of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine . . . And this small booklet holds a good many veiled hints and jokes devised to carry on the myths so carefully fostered by the Shriners themselves.

On one page it says "After the victims have been washed, dressed, poulticed and had the kinks taken out, there will be an up-rising and proceed to the Dominion (Hotel) where there will be a down-sitting at the festive board. Steve (Mr. Steve Jones, a member of Gizeh Temple and then proprietor of the Dominion Hotel) has promised to eclipse all former efforts."

And Noble Steve must have "outdone" all previous efforts for the menu included Toe Points; celery, Queen olives, Arabian salad, Island turkey, glazed York ham, pressed veal in aspic, Westphalian tongue, potatoes à la Brabançonne, mayonnaise of lobster, Shriner's punch, geneoese pudding, sabavon sauce, fruit jellies, Granville tarts, Dominion ice cream, assorted cakes, scones, water-crackers, McLauren's cheese, coffee . . .

Novices Get Advice . . . Then . . . Now!

One page in the little program is devoted to "a few capsules for the novice."

"Remember, that if you want to be a Shrine, you first have to be a Novice," it says in one of the pages. Place implicit confidence in everything anyone wearing a Red Fez may tell you, because some of it may possibly be true and you cannot afford to take any chances. Life insurance is no doubt a good thing, but the average novice needs fire insurance. "Baby blue underwear will not be allowed, it's a poor heat conductor."

And the page ends with the following poem:

"The sand may be warm, it's never too cold . . ."

And the Novice will wish that his shoes were half soled. With asbestos or some non-conductor as true.

That would keep out the heat for a minute or two.

If he fails to step high, having vigor and strength,

It will be that his legs are deficient in length,

For the sands are, I'm told so inherently hot.

That a man doesn't care to remain in one spot."

The list of officers on the last page of the small program bring back memories . . . for you see my father was one of those early Shriners. There is E. E. Leason . . . "Ed" to all his friends, (I remember his big mustache and his habit of always wanting to snip a curl from a small girl's head); G. M. Perdue (a big man who delighted in tossing a child high in the air); R. E. Brett, the always had a jelly bean tucked in his watch pocket to hand to an eager tot; W. L. Challoner (his jewelry store was a fascinating spot); C. G. Mills, A. A. Davis, T. J. Armstrong, W. K. Leighton, J. J. Jackson, W. Trickey and many more.

They were among the pioneer Shriners of this city.

Today, Gizeh Temple is celebrating its golden jubilee. It has many times 100 members . . . and will initiate at this ceremony many new novitiates.

In 50 years it has grown far beyond the wildest dreams of those first members.

There will be high jinks in Victoria this weekend . . . as 4,000 Shriners from all parts of Canada and United States join Gizeh Temple members in their celebration. And in the words of the old program on my desk:

"The night will be filled with music; And the cares that infest the day, Shall fold their tents like the Arabs And as silently steal away."

Club Honors Recent Members

New members who had joined the club within the past year were honored at last supper meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club. Seated with Mrs. Bessie Smith, club president, and Miss Bernice Harvey, membership chairman, at the head table were Mrs. Vera Wade, Mrs. Dora Cross, Mrs. Cora Danby, Mrs. J. Owen-Jones, Mrs. Margaret Dockrill, Mrs. Irene Woods, Mrs. Sybil Bateman, Mrs. Margaret Renton, Mrs. Vera Hawes, Misses Ella Brett and Margaret Cross.

Following supper, a program was presented by the new members, with Miss Brett as master of ceremonies.

Short talks on their various lines of work and their hobbies were given, followed by an amusing skit in which all new members took part.

Color films of India were shown by Mrs. Bateman and of Crater Lake by Miss Brett. Miss Mabel Cameron expressed thanks to those who took part in the program.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Smith that the annual meeting and election of officers will be held on Monday at 8 p.m. in the clubroom. General meeting will take place at 7:30.

Honor Chief—At meeting of Island Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, Miss Vera Mesher, newly-elected grand chief of Grand Temple, was given grand honors and presented with a gardenia corsage. Officers of Capital City Temple with their chief, Mrs. Pat Dufour, were also present. Mrs. Constance Mullen presided and Mrs. Ethel

Saanich, Oak Bay SC Candidates Protest Opposition 'Half-Truths'

Social Credit campaigners an annual profit of over $25,000,000. Elmer Gunderson, candidate in Oak Bay, and John D. Tisdale, Saanich, joined forces Thursday to protest that opposition parties were telling "half-truths" in an attempt to discredit their cause.

The two spoke to an audience of 38 at the Lady of Lourdes Parish Hall, Haultain Street.

Mr. Gunderson, finance minister in the Socred administration, complained first that political opponents were saying Social Crediters' reduction of the net provincial debt by $34,000,000 was automatic and would have resulted no matter what government was in power.

He acknowledged that certain payments had come due but held there was nothing automatic about the extent to which Socreds reduced the debt. He said if Liberals had been elected last year to carry out their intentions the net debt would have been up $7,000,000.

He criticized Saanich CCF'er Frank Snowsell for telling people of Saskatchewan's municipal debt reduction without explaining that province's population was declining.

NATURAL TREND

"The population of British Columbia and Alberta is increasing at a tremendous rate so it's only natural that municipal debt is bound to increase if the cities are going to extend their services to meet the need. At the same time, in a province where it's only natural that the debt is decreasing and leave it at that, doesn't mean a thing."

Mr. Gunderson was most eager about opposition claims that the Socreds' Equalization of Assessment Act provided for a personal property tax.

"Nothing of the sort," Mr. Gunderson declared. "I'm against a personal property tax. When there was some suggestion that the proposed bill might be interpreted to mean that, we told them that wasn't our intention at all. We had an amendment all ready to make it perfectly clear, but they didn't give us a chance to bring it in."

"They didn't want us to bring it in. It's a complicated bill, they thought they could mix it up; pull red herrings across and fool the people on it."

TAXES DEFENDED

Mr. Gunderson devoted much of his talk to defending Socred's intentions of imposing a 10 per cent tax on logging and mining industries showing ment and that federal authorities had so much money and so much to spend it on they didn't know where a lot of the money was going.

GROWING TOO FAST

Candidate Tisdale complained that half-truths were being told about Alberta's municipalities getting into debt, through provincial government policy.

He said Alberta cities were borrowing because they were faced with unprecedented expansion, and claimed the provincial government was giving them such good backing that they were getting money at low rates.

"They would be foolish and medieval to put up with what they have when they can borrow money so cheaply," he said.

Mr. Tisdale made it clear he was not in favor of British Columbia borrowing just because

Times Boys Fez-Topped as Courtesy to Shriners

Victoria Times newspaper vendors wore the insignia of the Nobles of the Shrine when delegates of the international organization swarmed into the city Thursday and today for a 6,000-man convention, marking the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Gizeh Temple here. The Shriners were impressed by the gesture, and said so, in no uncertain terms. The celebrations and ceremonies continue until Sunday. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

ALTERNATIVE VOTING

WILL BE USED IN THE COMING
 PROVINCIAL ELECTION

HERE'S HOW YOU VOTE WITH ALTERNATIVE VOTING

To vote this way is simplicity itself . . . it is just a case of using the common numerals 1-2-3-4, or as far as you want to go up to the number of candidates listed on your ballot.

Beside the name of your first choice you mark the number 1 . . . then beside the name of your second choice mark 2 . . . beside the name of your third choice mark 3 . . . and so on.

If you "plump", which means, if you mark your ballot for only one candidate, your plumping does not give your favourite candidate one bit of advantage more than if you mark a choice for each of the others . . . there is nothing gained, but you do deprive yourself, should your first choice be eliminated, of your privilege to further express your wishes in the continued counting, which may be necessary in order to establish which candidate enjoys an absolute majority vote.

The Provincial Elections Act provides that all ballot marking shall be done with black lead pencil. Black lead pencils are provided in all polling booths. If a voter uses ink or colored pencil, the ballot is spoiled, and will automatically be eliminated in the counting. Do not spoil your ballot . . . use black lead pencil only.

Don't Let Children Keep on Wearing Outgrown Shoes

It is often said that the basis of the foot is constantly changing as it is in childhood. With this I agree emphatically, and nowhere is it more important than in the care of the feet. The person who hobbies around in middle age with flat feet, bunions, or other foot difficulties, can often trace the source to mistakes in shoeing during the earlier years of life.

The two most important things about the care of the feet are the proper fitting of shoes and suitable exercise so that the muscles and ligaments of the feet will have normal tone, circulation and maintain their arches.

The shoes should be neither too large nor to small. This, however, is a difficult and expensive problem when the size feet.

Often special exercises are good for the feet (for grownups as well as children). Walking up and down in socks or stockings around a rug on the outer edge of the feet strengthens the arches, ankles and legs. Trying to pick up the edge of a rug, a pencil or marbles with the toes, is also a good exercise. Doing such exercises as these for a few minutes each day may save much trouble.

FOOT-HEALTH RULES

—dold@espresso.ca

The National Foot Health Council recommends the following foot-health rules: Bathe the feet daily, using a good soap; after the foot bath use powder on the feet and in the shoes and hosiery; wear shoes that are roomy and have flexible leather at the toes; prevent foot infections; don't put shoes on without hosiery; don't walk barefooted on floors or pavements; have your feet examined at least once a year.

Chalk River Hails Breeding Of U.S. Atom as Milestone

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—The new American ability to "breed" the atom was greeted here Thursday as a milestone in atomic progress but it was doubted that the development will alter the power picture in the next five years.

Canada's atomic scientists knew of the triumph through official channels before Thursday's announcement that the United States is now able to produce at least as much, or more, fissionable material as is burned in the process of making it.

This performance by a specially-built U.S. reactor gave practical proof to calculations made here by theorizing Canadian scientists that the breeder problem could be licked.

In Ottawa, Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the Crown firm, Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., which runs Canada's Chalk River atomic plant, called the whole picture of atomic fuel in a new light.

He echoed the statement by U.S. counterpart, Gordon Dean, that "the real significance of breeding is that it is now possible for mankind ultimately to utilize all the uranium that can be extracted from the earth's surface for atomic fuel, whether it is fissionable or not in its natural state."

Sen. Gerald O'Hara countered by saying that Tenney's proposal "is an indictment of the United Nations and an insult to those who have lost their lives repelling aggression in Korea."

China Flood, Famine May Influence Truce

BY FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—China is hungry again, victim of flood and famine.

News trickling out indicates the situation may be serious enough to influence views on a truce in Korea.

Chinese and North Korean armies must be fed if they are to fight. And by their own admission the food situation is becoming critical.

Although it's difficult to mea-

To avoid "Denture Breath"

Conquer Denture Breath with a denture cleaner that keeps the teeth—and breath—clean and fresh always. Follow these simple rules.

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges that get sore.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."

3. Use a denture cleaner made for false teeth only. Poldent Poldent is the denture cleaner recommended by more dentists than any other.

No brushing, no handling of soapy plates that can slip and break. Poldent is the only denture cleaner that reaches all. Poldent always leaves false teeth odor-free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Poldent, at your drug counter.

Polio Hits Five Victims At Dawson

DAWSON, Y.T. (CP)—An outbreak of polio that began at Whitehorse, about 210 miles southeast of here, has struck five times this week.

Almost every province is affected. The wheat crop, which usually totals about 10 per cent of China's cereal production, was nearly wiped out. Rice crops in the south and west have been heavily damaged by floods which have not subsided.

Vast flood areas have been reported in Kwangtung, Hunan, Kwangsi and Szechuan provinces of south and west China. Reports say the Kwangtung floods are increasing.

The most revealing document is Premier Chou En-lai's "directive on production of more grain and the strengthening of famine relief work" issued May 16.

Chou hints that Red farm reform may be the cause of some of the trouble—he speaks frequently of a farm manpower shortage. This traces back to a land division which left each farmer with a tiny plot. Thousands migrated to the cities.

HE'S EATING IN JAIL NOW

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Howard Zalinski, 27, was getting his free meals in the city jail today.

Zalinski was arrested Wednesday while relaxing in a two-year-old restaurant in the city's Chinatown.

Zalinski complained that for the past two days Johnny Targat, 24, has consumed two bowls of corn flakes, two bottles of milk, a bowl of peaches, two bottles of beer, a slice of pie, muffins, candy bars and cigarettes in his cafe each morning.

He pledged that his party

Socialist System Born for Canada, Corsbie Tells Langford Audience

Provincial president of the CCF, Joseph Corsbie, Vancouver, spoke at a Langford meeting Thursday night in support of Esquimalt candidate Frank Mitchell.

He told an audience of 50 that the CCF provincial campaign aims at keeping its total costs under the $10,000 mark.

"You can guess what the Socialists are spending," he said.

"They have three times as much radio time and more printed material than all the other parties put together. It is fianced by people looking for handouts. The CCF is the only party financed by the dimes and dollars of the people," he added.

Mr. Corsbie, who was MLA for Peace River from 1945 to 1949, spoke out strongly on CCF policy.

"Socialism of the CCF brand was born in Canada to serve the needs and desires of the Canadian people," he stated.

27 British Press Hails News of Truce Hopes

LONDON (Reuters)—A wave of hope that peace may soon be achieved in Korea swept through today's British press.

Morning newspapers played reports and messages about the new developments in the truce negotiations on their front pages under banner headlines.

The headlines included:

News Chronicle: "Korea highest hopes yet."

Daily Herald: "Korean truce very near."

Daily Express: "Korea truce hopes soar."

The Daily Express editorial says that a truce in Korea would be the sign for which the more cautious statesmen of the West have been waiting.

Shriner Invasion Started 3,000 Arrive Here Today

The deck of Ss. Princess Marguerite blossomed into a sea of red fezzes at noon today as 1,500 Shriners arrived from Pacific Northwest points.

Embarking from Seattle were Nobles from Nile Temple, Seattle; Al Kadar Temple, Portland; Alifi Temple, Tacoma, and El Katif Temple, Spokane.

Another 1,200 Shriners were due to arrive on Ss. Princess Patricia from Vancouver at 3:45 p.m., representing Temples and Shrine clubs in Vancouver, the interior of B.C., and the prairie provinces.

By the time the Seattle boat had made fast, the Shriners had completed their conquest of the city.

Spontaneous and informal parades; good-humored horseplay; lilting band music, left no doubt that the Shriners are in town.

HOTELS SOLID

Hub of Shrine activity was the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, where registration officials labored from 10 a.m. throughout the afternoon.

All arriving Nobles and their wives reported first to the hotel, where they registered and were assigned accommodation. All hotels and auto courts are booked solid with Shriners, and hundreds are being given accommodation in private homes.

The "housing" desk was under constant pressure as out-of-towners asked directions to get to their lodgings, some of them as much as 12 miles from the city.

The Nile band of 60 musicians from Seattle was scheduled to make an appearance in The Times newsroom this afternoon, after parading through the streets in their uniforms.

PEOPLE GASP

Spectators gasped when the boat docked at noon, as a mass of color flowed off the gangplank and spread through the streets.

First official function of the 50th Anniversary ceremonies of Gizeh Temple will be the pageant and dance at Memorial Arena at 7:30 p.m., which is open to the public. Very few tickets were left this afternoon.

5 Would-Be Hitlers Clapped in Prison

DORTMUND, Germany (UPI) — The West German government today clapped five would-be Hitlers in jail for terms ranging from six to 14 months on charges of attempting to revive Nazism.

The five were convicted of forming a secret Fascist society with headquarters in Hagen and branch offices scattered in towns throughout the politically volatile Ruhr.

Two others were acquitted.

Italian Elections Could Harm Future Of NATO, Army

ROME (UPI) — Italian Communists warned today that if left wing parties win power in Sunday's general election they will repudiate the Atlantic pact and the proposed European army plan.

The Communists accused the government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi of planning to win the nation-wide parliamentary election by "fraud."

Leaders of all Italian parties, from the Communists on the left to the monarchists and neo-Fascist Italian-social movement (MSI) on the right, made major speeches as the campaign entered its last 36 hours.

They wore their No. 1 blue uniforms with cherry berets and they came into the forecourt of the palace with a band playing "Maple Leaf Forever." Some 150 Canadian school children here for the Coronation were almost speechless with excitement.

All the Canadians in the honor guard are veterans of Korea.

LONDON (CP) — The Queen said goodbye at Buckingham Palace today to more than 200 dignitaries from 60 foreign lands who came to London to see her crowned.

For officialdom it marked the close of the varied, glittering ceremonies that have surrounded the Coronation of Elizabeth II. Official visits by the foreign representatives end Saturday.

But for the people a happy post-Coronation mood continues to prevail and probably will go on for days. Thousands milled about the palace, shouting at the Queen and laughing at the jumping-jack antics of young Prince Charles as he watched a guards' parade from a window. Strollers along the procession route jammed traffic.

At the palace farewell ceremony the Queen, hatless and in a dress of lemon silk, moved slowly down the line of envoys assembled in the state apartments. She spoke to each in turn, including the leader of the senior Commonwealth country, Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada.

Behind her walked her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Counter Libel Suit Launched by Kemp

Latest Development in B.C. Election Legal Actions; A-G May Take Action

VANCOUVER (CP) — The launching of two legal actions involving alleged libel has been announced in British Columbia's bitter provincial election campaign.

And Premier Bennett told an election meeting Thursday night he believes there will be criminal libel suits "conducted by the attorney-general himself" in connection with statements made by the independent candidate involved in the other two actions.

The independent candidate is Dr. W. N. Kemp, running in Vancouver-Point Grey riding in the June 9 election. He is being sued by John Perdue, president of the B.C. Social Credit League, and, in turn, has announced he will sue Mr. Perdue.

The hectic series of charges and counter-charges began a week ago when Mr. Kemp said at an election meeting that Mr. Perdue "has been convicted on more than one occasion of obtaining money under false pretences and similar crimes in Vancouver."

Mr. Perdue has obtained a writ in the B.C. Supreme Court seeking unstated damages from Dr. Kemp for alleged slander and libel. The doctor followed up at a meeting Thursday night by announcing he is suing Mr. Perdue "for defamation of character and libel." Mr. Kemp said he, too, has obtained a writ.

The Social Credit premier's report that the attorney-general may step into the case was made during a speech at Rutland in the province's interior.

Dr. Kemp said he was basing his suit on remarks made by the Social Credit League president, himself an election candidate, when he spoke in reply to the criminal-record allegation.

Mr. Perdue asserted that it appeared that the Liberal party was in the background of what he said was a smear campaign by the independent candidate and said Dr. Kemp launched his attack after the government rejected his bid for a $35-a-day job.

Following Mr. Perdue's comment that the criminal-record charge appeared part of the Liberal campaign, the B.C. Liberal Association released a statement which said:

"Such a deplorable attempt to clear himself of his own trouble by trying to place the blame on the people is unworthy of an answer."

Mr. Perdue is the Social Credit candidate for the northern Mackenzie riding.
